McConnell Selected as Public Services Employee of the Quarter

Lydia McConnell, administrative assistant, was selected as the Santa Rosa County Public Services Employee of the Quarter. McConnell has been employed with Santa Rosa County since 2000, and was selected as the employee of the quarter for her work supporting the many functions of the county's development service center.

McConnell's role within DSC has continually changed and expanded since the center was formed in 2009. She now supports the building official, planning and zoning director and public services director. Her ability to multitask and move effortlessly from one of the many development services operations to another always keeping the focus on customer service, was key in ensuring the success of the newly created service center. Additionally, McConnell's attitude, professionalism and work ethic sets a good example for employees on all levels to follow.
