Commissioner Rob Williamson explains the importance of meetings by saying, “With county leaders in the process of crafting the fiscal year 2015/2016 budget, listening to feedback from residents throughout the county will help me with pending budget decisions. I’m interested to hear their thoughts on a variety of topics. Topics like infrastructure spending, stormwater/flood management, courthouse, tourism, economic development, industrial park improvements, agriculture, quality of life, growth management, RESTORE funding, fuel taxes, impact fees and water quality.”

District 4 Commissioner Williamson plans to conduct these district wide meetings each year.
