County Launches Video Series

Santa Rosa County has launched an educational video series available on the county's Website at www.santarosa.fl.gov under "What's Hot." The short videos are intended to educate citizens on important safety issues and the many services available through the offices and departments under the Santa Rosa County Board of County Commissioners. Videos will be added throughout the year and residents are encouraged to check the video site regularly. The titles currently available include:

- H1N1 Flu & You
- Your Emergency Management Staff Working for You
- What Happens When you call 9-1-1
- Severe Weather
- What to do Before, During and After a Hurricane
- Threatening Hurricanes
- Rip Current Safety
- Beach Flag Warning System
- The Seven Signs of Terrorism- Produced by the Northwest Florida Regional Domestic Security Taskforce

In order to offer this service at the lowest cost possible, the videos are created in-house by county staff and are available on the county's website at www.santarosa.fl.gov. Citizens without internet access are encouraged to use the public computer resources available at one of the five county libraries.
