Deepwater Horizon Incident Update #22
(Highlighted sections indicate new information)

Situation Update

- Navarre Beach and Santa Rosa's entire coastline is open. Two links to live Web cams on Navarre Beach are available at www.santarosa.fl.gov/oilspill.
- Winds and currents continue to keep the plume away from the Florida coastline for at least the next 72 hours.
- According to the NOAA oil plume model, the oil spill is 75 miles southwest of Pensacola, and is expected to be 90 miles from the Florida coastline on Saturday, May 29.
- The EOC will return to Level 3 monitoring at the close of business, Friday May 28th. We will continue to monitor the situation, participate in briefings and daily conference calls, remain engaged in incident activities and adjust as needed throughout the incident. Media releases will continue as needed.
- The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, National Oceanic Atmospheric Administration National Marine Fisheries Service, and the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission are coordinating sea turtle nesting beach and stranding activities. BP will be contracting with Ecological Associates, Inc. to assist with sea turtle nesting beach surveys and stranding response. .
- A volunteer frequently asked questions link is now available at www.santarosa.fl.gov/oilspill under Volunteer Information as "Volunteer FAQ."
- Oil on Florida's coastline will most likely be in the form of tar balls, oil sheen, tar patches or mats. To learn more visit For more information visit www.santarosa.fl.gov/oilspill, under the Fact Sheet and Q & A heading.
- The public is reminded that ALL suspected sightings of oil substances from the spill should be reported directly to the oil sighting hotline at 1-866-448-5816. Do not pick the substance up. When reporting to the hotline, please be ready to provided detailed sighting information, including a description and an address or prominent landmarks.
- Spill responders are asking for the public's help in monitoring boom along the Gulf Coast. Boaters are requested to report sightings of broken, disconnected, or adrift boom; and encouraged to keep their distance from boom especially at night and in conditions of restricted visibility. Report damaged, vandalized, adrift, or stolen boom to 1-866-448-5816.
- Santa Rosa County and the State of Florida continue to make preparations to safeguard the state's shoreline.
- In order to condense our updates, older information that is still valid including tips, links, training schedules and other information for business and residents, are now available at www.santarosa.fl.gov/oilspill.

Fishing

- The fisheries, wildlife and seafood off of Florida's coast in state waters are safe and there are no alerts at this time.
- On May 25, NOAA has modified and expanded the boundaries of the closed fishing area in the oil oil-affected portions of the Gulf of Mexico. All commercial and recreational fishing including catch and release is prohibited in the closed area; however, transit through the area is allowed. Learn more at http://sero.nmfs.noaa.gov/bulletins/pdfs/2010/FB10-045_BP_Oil_Spill_Closure_052510.pdf
- This leaves more than 77 percent of Gulf federal waters, and all Florida state waters, still open for commercial and recreational fishing.
- The recreational red snapper season in the Gulf will remain closed until June 1. For more information on red snapper management rules and research efforts, go to MyFWC.com/Rules; click on "Fishing – Saltwater."
- The FWC reminds Floridians and visitors that the state's recreational and commercial fisheries have not been impacted by the oil spill and remain open for public enjoyment and commerce. Florida saltwater fishing regulations remain in effect as usual and are available online at MyFWC.com/Fishing.
- Modeling and mapping the actual and projected spill area is not an exact science. NOAA Fisheries Service strongly advises fishermen not to fish in areas where oil or oil sheens (very thin layers of floating oil) are present, even if those areas are not currently closed to fishing.
